NEWMAN FAMILY RECORDS 1814 to 2010
REVISED 2017

Burial location of the Newman Family decedents is on the old Thomas Dance Farm.

Take Route 330 to Markus Church. Turn on Crooked Creek Road and go 1 ¼ mile to the park Thompson Farm. On the left side of the road, the Newman-Dance Cemetery is on a hill behind the barn and corn crib.

Tombstones inscriptions found during the restoration of the cemetery.

Susan S. Duff. Died July 2, 1858. Age about 75 years old. (believe Susan could have been a slave.) Stone was scattered in field and was reset 2001 in small stone enclosure which was part of a larger cemetery. (Cannot find any relationship to the family.)

Donald Thompson (son of Park Thompson) stated that this cemetery covered a large area around the remaining stone enclosure. Also, many black families and their children are buried here. Some of these deaths were the result of Cholera epidemic.
